

FIVE MORE TRUSTEES SELECTED

National Committee of Wilson Foundation Is Increased To Ten by Roosevelt

LISTON LOCAL
TREASURER

I have been appointed to accept donations on behalf of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation fund for Salem and vicinity. There is only a short time left to subscribe to this wonderful work. Will you be one to help further the advancement of democracy, liberal thought and peace through justice?

W. A. LISTON,
Treasurer,
454 Court Street.

New York, Jan. 31.—The election by the national committee of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation of five trustees in addition to the five previously named, were announced here today by Franklin D. Roosevelt, national chairman. They are: Cyrus H. McCormick, Chicago; Henry Morgenthau, New York, former ambassador to Turkey; Roland S. Morris, Philadelphia, former ambassador to Japan; Ernest A. Hopkins, Hanover, N. H., president of Dartmouth college, and Dr. William J. Mayo, Rochester, Minn.

These five, with five still to be selected and five announced some time ago, will have charge of the investment of the fund of $1,000,000 or more now being raised that is to endow the Wilson awards for public service. The first five trustees elected are Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, E. A. Alderman, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Cleveland H. Dodge and William Allen White.

The permanent board of trustees which is to have fifteen members will periodically disburse the income of the endowment to a jury of awards to consist of 25 members not yet named. The five trustees still to be chosen will not be announced until the canvass is completed.

The fund being raised throughout the country for the foundation now totals $175,000. Oklahoma was chief among the states making new reports for the past 24 hours. A telegram from Judge C. B. Ames, chairman in that state, stated that 45 counties had contributed $16,000 and that 32 counties had yet to report.

The total now announced for the fund was collected from exactly one-third of the states in the country. Definite reports have not been had from 32 states. No state has yet raised its quota, though several counties, cities, and towns throughout the country have finished their task.

Trial of Woman and Daughter for Murder Opened

Everett, Wash., Jan. 31.—Examination of jurors began Monday in the case against Mrs. Bertha Wilkes, accused of first degree murder, and her 15 year old daughter, Treva Pote, accused of being an accessory, with indications that the jury could not be completed until tomorrow. Mrs. Wilkes is accused of shooting and killing Gus Danielson, a logging camp superintendent, in her home last November. She claims the shooting was accidental. Examination of witnesses indicated the testimony would follow that given at the inquest and that the state's evidence would be chiefly circumstantial.

Styles Leads to Grave
Martin's Ferry, Ohio, Jan. 31.—"Thousands die for fashion," declared Dr. C. B. Winger, sermonizing on dress reform. "Dare breasts, silk hose, low shoes, with a chic fur coat send thousands into the grave. In the high school dress leads to snobbish and caste, and many a poor man's daughter, with birth, brains and character even in excess of others cannot go because of expenses."

Mr. Moore Gained Flesh and Strength

Rapidly By Taking Vinol After Everything Else Had Failed

R. J. MOORE
Norton Heights, Conn.—"I am a carpenter, and got all run down and contracted a chronic cough, so I could hardly keep about my work. It seemed as though I had tried all kinds of medicines without help, but one day I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it. Before I had taken half a bottle I felt better and after taking six bottles I found I had regained my normal weight and never felt better in my life."—R. J. Moore, Norton Heights, Conn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the curative elements of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated form together with Iron and Beef Peptides which for centuries have been without a peer for such conditions. Price $1.00 a bottle, guaranteed.

Klamath Falls Bank Is Closed

That the State Bank of Klamath Falls, which closed Saturday was in difficulty, became known to Bank Examiner Bramwell several weeks ago and he immediately dispatched Deputy Examiner Adair to investigate, says the Oregonian. His report, reaching Mr. Bramwell several days ago, made clear that the situation was serious, so Mr. Bramwell sent Mr. Wales down to take charge in an effort to save the bank. Mr. Wales was formerly associated with the Inland Empire bank of Pendleton and it was by agreement with all of the banks concerned in the endeavor to keep the endangered institution going that he took over its affairs.

Within the last few days efforts had been made to obtain a loan of $115,000 from the war finance corporation, but some difficulty arose over details and that cash was not forthcoming to help keep up the reserve. Deposits dropped from $1,250,000, registered shortly after the reopening of the bank about one year ago, following its closing the first time, to $600,000. Total assets were $1,400,000 yesterday when the doors were ordered kept closed.

London Weather Keeps Many In Sickbeds And Sunshine Is Unknown

By Earle C. Reeves.

London, Jan. 31.—They call them "good old London" particular.

They are not good; they may be old—they are certainly most particular something or other.

"London particular" is superlative for fog.

Wise men in laboratories, surrounded by delicate instruments, measure this superlative fog. They tell you how many microscopic bits of grime you breathe in every cubic inch of "air" during the time of the city's eclipse. They tell you why it's here, what started it, when it will depart. And they are always wrong in every particular. Hence, perhaps its name.

After a heat wave through the Fall, when the thermometer registered to degrees into late October, the English climate clinched its reputation for general cussedness by dropping below freezing over night and staying there. Then followed a few spurts in the way of trial fog, a period during which the doctors are overworked and many actually took to their beds with colds themselves, and finally the "London particular."

Picture to yourself freezing weather, a sheen of frost underfoot. Step into your backyard, if you have one, and imagine that you could not see the board fences on either side, of your narrow lot. All the street lights are on, but at twenty feet they do not exist. Walk, rather feel your way, along the sidewalk. The opposite curb is far beyond your range of vision. Suddenly, a dozen or fifteen feet away, where a moment before there was absolutely nothing, another centurion's soul emerges. If you carry a stick you tap it constantly, not so much as a guide, blind-man fashion, but as warning to the other fellow against collision. There are no landmarks. It is possible to move fifty yards and become hopelessly lost.

But the trains run. Buses creep along, in file of six or eight, with the conductor standing on the front step peering ahead as though two pairs of eyes had a better chance of penetrating the impenetrable than one. Trams—street cars—glide along, ghostly glimmers, though all lights are on. Taxis even slip up on you.

All the experts say that it will last as a "particular" for more than 24 hours, and as a fog for the rest of the week. Whereupon you read in your evening paper the gloomy tidings, turn and look out of the car window and find the chimney-pots of London visible for miles. It's all over—until the next one.

Biggest Congestion Claimed.

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—A report of the Greater Los Angeles Traffic Commission, organized to study the city's traffic problems, shows that at Fifth street and Broadway, in the heart of the downtown district, there is a greater congestion than in any other city in America. A recent census shows 36,000 persons walked across the intersection of the two streets in an hour.

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in its composite detail a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles; fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illuminated with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

LYKO

The Great General Tonic

Nothing is more efficacious as a restorer of exhausted nerves and physical forces than LYKO, the great general tonic. It tends to remove the worn-out tissue, replenish the blood, create new power and endurance, and revitalize the spirits of those who are weak, frail, languid and over-tired.

It is a reliable restorative, a splendid aid to digestion and a functional regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

All druggists sell LYKO. Get a bottle TODAY and you'll commence to look more like the picture of health.

American Ace in Legion
Omaha, Neb., Jan. 31.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, famous American "ace" in the World War, has filed application for membership in the Omaha chapter of the American Legion. Although at present an automobile manufacturer in Detroit, Mich., Captain Rickenbacker's petition says he regards Omaha as his home.

Would Rather Fight Than Work

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and could not eat and just hated for anyone to say work to me. I would rather fight. Since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I actually want to work and talk about eat. I am the last one to leave the table now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Adv.
